Dear Friend,

A warm welcome from Samatvam Academy.

Shareholder value or stakeholder responsibility? In this month's research study, Dr. Daniel Saint offers a very balanced and informed perspective around this perennial debate - backed by sound theory.

In the case study section this month, we carry a video case for the very first time. Ms. Madhavi masterfully elucidates on film, the transformational journey of India's pioneering distance education institution - The School of Open Learning (SOL) at the University of Delhi.

Our forthcoming workshop is on "Appreciative Inquiry". Kindly do view the details that are included in the final section.

We would love to hear from you. Kindly do write in.

Warm Regards,

Team Samatvam

Dr. Daniel Saint, Dr. Sunil Maheshwari, Mr. Jagjit Singh Maan, Mr. Dilbag Singh, Ms. Aarti Maheshwari

Case Study

Innovation In Educational Governance at School of Open Learning, Delhi University

By Ms. Madhavi

The fact that over 400,000 students are enrolled in SOL's various courses is a testimony of its need and effectiveness.. But the legacy carries its own need for proactive transformation, as the detailed note and video (below) reveal.

Research Study

The Shareholder and Stakeholder Theories of Corporate Purpose

By Dr. Daniel K. Saint & Mr. Aseem Nath Tripathi

The learned authors dwell on the historical paradox on the purpose of the modern corporation. Is the sole purpose of business maximization of shareholder wealth? They rely on the impressive work of many scholars and practitioners to offer a neat perspective on this contradicting and contrasting purpose.
