

Dear friend,

The brightness of Diwali gone by hasn't dimmed for sure; what with the rising Sensex and falling fuel prices!

A healthy economy bodes well for the whole ecosystem and needs able managers to sustain it. Which brings us to the topic of the research study in this issue. Dr. Sunil Maheshwari's treatise 'Corporate Leadership at Different Organizational Strata' explains the role of hierarchy and its necessity in an organization.

Continuing with the theme of visionaries, the video case study this time features Dr. E. Shreedharan, well known as the 'Metro Man of India'. The video goes beyond his fame to analyse the specific factors behind the man and his pet project.

Happy reading!

Where there is a will..... The Delhi Metro is a shining example of how a determined bureaucrat can orchestrate the team, resources and external factors towards a visionary goal.

Research Study

Corporate Leadership at Different Organizational Strata

By Dr. Sunil Maheshwari

How exactly does an employee fit into an organizational structure - as a leader and as an employee? How does he respond in either of the roles?

The author delves deep into the subject to analyse the science behind the ever-changing contours of the organization. More.
