February 2015 | Vol 6 | Issue 2 | FORWARD

Welcome back to a celebration of what's right with the world !

Times change. Novel technologies emerge. New skills blossom. New habits develop.

But the "unchanging" Critical Success Factor in this perennially "changing" environment is still the "committed" human 'individual' - strong in body, mind and soul.

Fittingly, the two anchor stories in this issue delve into the inner and outer aspects of the matchless human persona. While Ms. Aarti Maheshwari's Research Study extracts deeply philosophical elements that makeup a person, the Video Case Study elaborates on the tireless foot soldiers that lie at the heart of Mumbai's Six Sigma standard Dabbawala ecosystem.

Warmly,

The Editorial Board

Video Case Study The Six Sigma Dabbawalas of Mumbai

The legendary ingenuity and accurate execution of the Mumbai's dabbawalas is in short, fascinating.

This video describes the by-the-minute transactions that ensures the right lunch box reaches the right recipient by lunchtime. The numbers are staggering! More.

Research Study The Human Being asks, "Who am I?" By Aarti Maheshwari

The author charmingly invokes the deep seated elements of the universe that make up a human being's persona, as we perceive it.

Inspired by ancient philosophies of the world, the comprehensively researched treatise will urge you to look at people in a completely new light. More.

Call for Contributions

We are pleased to invite organisational leaders, managers, authors, researchers and practitioners to submit high quality Research and Case Study contributions in both the print as well as the audio-visual media for publication in the forthcoming issues of SATTVA.

These may kindly be directed to Dr. Sunil Maheshwari at sunil@samatvam.co.in
